PROPOSED PROGRAM

FOR

DEVELOPMENT OF A REMOTE PK SWITCH (U)

PK = Psychokinesis - The action of mind on matter, in which objects are supposedly caused to move or change as a result of mental concentration upon them

1. PROGRAM OBJECTIVE (U)

a. (S-NOFORN) General: This effort will investigate evidence that certain individuals, when in proximity to random statistical processes (e.g., radio active decay, electronic diode noise) affect the statistics of that process. Experiments to date have shown statistically significant effects, while none of the experiments show similar departures from randomness during control runs without intended influence. Specific tasks are designed to investigate and provide detailed assessments of the feasibility of error-correcting coding of statistical output to result in a remote PK switch with low alarm rate and in determining the mechanism by which such a device operates.

b. (S-NOFORN) Specific effort will be placed on the following:

(1) TASK 1 (U)

(S-NOFORN) Perform a coordination effort to consolidate related work in the PK area with emphasis on elimination of duplication of effort and the definition of the present state of the art. The primary goal of this task will be to provide a clear well defined approach toward identification of the PK phenomena. This approach will include the reviewing of past PK research tasks resulting in the isolation of efforts and techniques which have yielded the most significant results. Information obtained during the performance of this task will be directly utilized in the remainder of the tasks identified in this scope.

(2) TASK 2 (U)

(S-NOFORN) Utilizing existing information as the foundation of the research and development efforts and working in conjunction with the most knowledgeable contractor organizations in the field, an effort will be initiated to prove feasibility of a practical PK controlled switch. Dedicated hardware will be fabricated to show feasibility and research and development efforts will be performed to show the level of control possible within our present knowledge of the PK phenomena. The hardware developed will be designed with the final goal in mind of determining the mechanisms by which the PK effect works.

(3) TASK 3 (U)

(S-NOFORN) Utilize the latest in applied mathematics to thoroughly research the basic laws and latest theories of system entropy states and how these states may be altered by external stimuli. The goal of the effort will be to show mathematically the requirements for decreasing system entropy and determine if this decrease can be produced by an external non-interacting stimulus. The effects of such control will also be researched.

(4) TASK 4 (U)

(S-NOFORN) Layout a clear scientifically based program to use the PK switch to research the mechanisms of control. This effort will attempt to isolate any energy transfer from the controller to the PK switch as well as determine the level of control which can be exerted. This program will involve the use of the PK switch as the basis for the research and development effort directed toward mechanism identification. The program will also involve the consolidation of inputs from the various groups and organizations working in the specific technology area.

3. METHODOLOGY (U)

(S-NOFORN) The contractor, US Army Missile Intelligence Agency, and the Advanced Systems Directorate of MIRADCOM, will participate in a coordinated effort in performing tasks 1a, 2b, 2c and 2e. The Missile Intelligence Agency and the Advanced Systems Directorate will perform complimentary efforts with the development of the PK switch as defined in the remaining tasks. Data base and technical liaison will be provided by the US Army Missile Intelligence Agency's and Advanced System Directorate's technical monitor.

4. SECURITY (U)

(U) Reference Defense Intelligence Agency meeting on 28 Nov 78. As agreed in referenced meeting Project GRILL FLAME will require special access.

SECTION III - TELEPATHY (ENERGY TRANSFER) IN MAN

PART A - Classical Theories and Experiments

Over the past 25 years, Soviet scientists have reported that abilities such as extrasensory perception, clairvoyance, and telepathy have been demonstrated in the laboratory under rigorously controlled conditions. Many of these claims have been published in the Soviet technical and popular literature. Just how far the Soviets have really gone in their efforts to learn about the mechanisms of human telepathy is not known. If the Soviet reports are even partly true, and if mind-to-mind thought transference can be used for such applications as interplanetary communications or the guiding of interplanetary spacecraft, the Soviets have accomplished a scientific breakthrough of tremendous significance.

For many years, any attempt to study telepathic phenomena was denounced in the Soviet Union as mysticism and idealism. From 1922 to 1959, however, this attitude gradually changed. Official recognition of parapsychology as a legitimate science was prompted to a considerable extent by the Party's recognition of other disciplines which had previously been rejected as bourgeois idealism (quantum mechanics, the theory of relativity, and cybernetics). In 1959 Professor L.I. Vasiliev published his "Mysterious Phenomena of the Human Psyche," followed in 1962 by his "Experiments in Mental Suggestion." These two publications caused some surprise among Western scientists, but the possible military implications were apparently overlooked in the West. The first attempt to illustrate the possible military and intelligence impact of Soviet research in telepathy and psychokinesis was published in 1972.

The publication of Vasiliev's first book in 1959 was followed by the appearance of countless studies by other Soviet researchers and numerous articles in the Soviet periodical press. Soviet parapsychology research gained impetus and sophistication, growing from a single laboratory into a coordinated USSR-wide effort; laboratories were also established in Czechoslovakia. Funds for research (reported at 20 million rubles in 1973) are believed to be primarily from military sources. This high level of support advanced Soviet research on human telepathy far beyond that of the West and the USSR became the leader in sponsoring and participating in international parapsychology symposiums. Such international meetings have served Soviet interests by allowing them to benefit from Western research.

After 1959 large numbers of Soviet scientists began investigating telepathic communication. In 1965, a bioinformation department was formed

September 1975

The potential applications of focusing mental influences on an enemy through hypnotic telepathy have surely occurred to the Soviets. The bulk of recent telepathy research in the USSR has been concerned with the transmission of emotional or behavioral impulses and the study of physiological responses to PK exercises, etc. In their exploration of telepathy, they are seeking the eventual capability to reproduce and to amplify the phenomena so that control is feasible. Control and manipulation of the human consciousness must be considered a primary goal.

DST-1810S-387-75
September 1975

According to both Soviet and Czech researchers, one major advantage of studying psychotronic generators is the reproducibility of their effects; in addition, they can be activated by nearly anyone, with or without any special psychic abilities. The devices may have other practical applications not related to parapsychology. The Czechs claim that irradiation of seeds with the energy enhances plant growth, and that industrial pollutants have been precipitated out of water by its action (Figure 7). These claims may be open to question, since in 1972, Zdenek Rejdek, head of the Psychotronic Research Section of the Czechoslovakian Society for Science and Technology, termed the experiments with plants and water "ineffective."

A recent newspaper article,³⁶ quoting Pavlita, reported that his generators could serve as weapons; no further details were given. No information is available on Czech efforts to develop psychotronic weapons, but Pavlita has stated that some forms of his devices can exert both favorable and unfavorable effects on living organisms, including man. In experiments with snails exposed to the energy from a generator, a state similar to hibernation resulted. When flies were placed in the gap of a circular generator (Figure 6) they died instantly. In another test, Pavlita aimed a generator at his daughter's head from a distance of several yards. Her electroencephalogram (EEG) changed, she became dizzy, and her equilibrium was disrupted.

In their present form and size, Pavlita's devices could probably exert an effect on humans at only relative short range. It is possible that their size could be enlarged or their energy amplified, thereby extending their range. If the Czech claims for these devices are valid, biological energy might be an effective antipersonnel weapon. It would be difficult to defend against, since it apparently penetrates most common forms of insulation and its reported effects (changes in brain wave characteristics disturbance of equilibrium, dizziness) could result in personality changes or physical discomfort which might alter combat effectiveness.

Soviet or Czech perfection of psychotronic weapons would pose a severe threat to enemy military, embassy, or security functions. The emitted energy would be silent and difficult to detect electronically (although the Soviets claim to have developed effective biological energy sensors) and the only power source required would be the human operator.

DST-1810S-387-75
September 1975

PART V

CONCLUSIONS

Soviet and Czechoslovakian researchers have accepted the reality of paranormal events and are primarily concerned with the formulation of a unified theory to describe the basic energy transformations involved. The Soviet emphasis on the electrostatic and electromagnetic components of the energy may play an important role in the final determination of the nature of psychical phenomena. This emphasis on energetics or interaction effects has led to the concept that man must be investigated as a complete, integrated unit.

Soviet and Czech psychotronic research will eventually be applied to human problems. As this occurs, the question will arise whether this knowledge and the equipment developed will be used for the enhancement of human freedom and social development, or for regimentation and enslavement. Psychotronics could conceivably play a role in contributing to the survival of the human species; by emphasizing the interconnections between all living beings, it should help to reduce human aggressive tendencies. By the same token, it could also be applied to increase such aggressive tendencies and it has powerful potential for use as an effective weapon against groups of men and key leaders.

The Czechs claim that a direct transfer of biological energy from healthy to diseased or injured muscle is not only possible, but proven. The Soviets do not restrict the possibility of such energy transfer to any one physiological system, but state that biological energy transfer can be utilized to relieve human functional disorders of the nervous system, the internal organs, and the mind. In all cases, such medical applications of biological energy transfer are officially described as having beneficial results, but this may not necessarily be true. By analogy, conventional medical techniques can be beneficial, but when misapplied, can cause serious damage, or even death. By the same token, there can also be "psychic" malpractice, although the Soviets and Czechs are not likely to publicize this fact.

Both Czech and US researchers have described Robert Pavlita's work with psychotronic generators as possibly the most important contemporary development in the field of parapsychology and as a major contribution to the deeper understanding, mastery, and utilization of biological energy for human advantage. Just as in the example of direct transfer of biological energy for medical purposes, the use of such devices is not

We followed a group out through the exit. I felt a quick static tingle as we passed through the wall.

When we came out and looked around, I noticed we were in more of a rural-looking area of the Anshar city.

We walked down onto a very narrow street, which revealed Anshar of all ages walking and flying around like Superman. This was quite stunning to see.

I noticed the inhabitants smiling as they were bustling around, doing their normal routines.

There was very little noise pollution or even sounds of people making the types of background noises that I am accustomed to hearing. It was very quiet and serene.

I was then guided to a very large domed building that was a community living area where Aree and her sister live.

GROWING OPPORTUNITIES

I was told that I was going to be prepared for upcoming "growing opportunities" that I would be presented with in the next year.

[DW: This usually means some type of difficult karma that you have to work through on your spiritual path. Suffering is seen as an "opportunity" in the Law of One.]

They would also prepare me to greet the Guardians in a ceremony in the near future.

I was told to keep this information and the bulk of the conversations I have with her people to myself for now.

[DW: Some of what he received was personal for me. I found it incredibly interesting, and it has completely changed how I am writing Awakening in the Dream.]

I was informed that I was being allowed to stay with the Anshar for a short period of time during this preparation. I would be brought back for a longer period of time later in the year.

I was concerned about not having clothing or toiletries with me. Aree noted my concern. Without me even communicating this, she responded by saying, "We will provide for all of your needs."

PRIVATE ACCOMMODATIONS

She walked me to a small room with a bed, and motioned to relevant items set upon the bed.

I looked and saw clothing that seemed like it was out of a 1980's Sears or JC Penney catalog.

There was also a small bag of toiletries that had items looking equally as old.

I was with them for what seemed like a couple of days. I had to take a normal sleep cycle on two different occasions while I was there.

The Anshar didn't really sleep. They just spent forty minutes or so in one of the egg-shaped chairs every few days.

We then made our way back to the Anshar bus craft. We flew out of the temporal anomaly and landed back in the cavern.

We walked through the hallway back to the Temple Complex. When we got to the large domed room, I could see members of the seven different inner-earth groups standing in a line, going to the cleansing room.

I was taken past the front of the line and into the cleansing room. We completed the cleansing ceremony and put on our robes and sandals.

Aree had a small, light-brown bag hanging by her hip. She took my clothes and put them into the bag.

Then she looked up, telling me that a ceremony was about to take place, and that I would be sharing the honor of this ceremony with them.

It was explained that the ceremony's purpose was to celebrate and prepare for the meeting with the Guardians.

I told her it was my honor. She seemed happy and playful. There didn't seem to be any concern or preoccupation over maintaining their timeline.

THE ELIXIR OF ISIS = aka Drugs being used and administered to Corey Goode

As I took in the space, I noticed everyone around me was carrying the same excited energy.

Something like a guided prayer and meditation service then occurred. At the end of the ceremony, goblets of the Elixir of Isis were passed around.

← this is more likely RA = Remote Action
[DW: The Law of One revealed that Ra, Isis and other historic Egyptian figures were originally positive, and their stories were later co-opted by negative Cabal-type religious groups.]

I took a glass and held it like I would a glass of champagne. Aree noticed. With a big smile, she held up her glass, waved her hand over it and moved her lips, as if saying a prayer.

She took a long steady sniff of the drink while holding the glass up to her face with both hands. She then held the glass out and then up slightly, before taking a drink.

I did the best I could to repeat what she had done before taking a drink of the elixir, which was sweet at first but had a slightly bitter aftertaste that was similar to having chewed on a flower petal.

Aree and her sister were both giggling and looking at me, as I'm sure my facial expression changed to match how I felt.

A GREAT DEAL OF JOY

An immediate feeling of intense euphoria overcame me. I felt a strange, yet powerful connection with all of the Inner Earth Groups present.

When it was over, they all began hugging one another, and hugging me. There was a great deal of joy and excitement in the room.

They then began to do something similar to a type of deep throat humming, while still hugging and patting each other on the back.

I noticed Aree's sister motioning in my direction. I looked at Aree, who was waving for me to come in her direction.

The three of us then walked down the passageways, back to the main domed room where I am usually greeted.

There were two Anshar guarding each door, just like last time.

BOARDING THE CRAFT WITH THE OMEGA GROUP

We walked down another passageway and came back out into the cavern where the city used to be.

I observed a very large saucer-shaped craft that was parked on the cavern floor.

As my eyes adjusted to the cavern's lower light, I could see a ramp coming out of the craft.

I then saw three men from the Omega group waiting for us at the base of the ramp.

They appear to be projections of what were once living beings within this Ancient Builder Race society that vanished long ago.

They are not artificial intelligence, but do seem to be some form of projection from another realm.

AKA Holograms

Little else is known about them. They do not normally appear in any other SSP activities. Gonzales is the only other person from here ever to have seen them.]

The Sentinels greeted the Guardians and started to communicate.

-see Hendriks Loos Patent US6506148B2

THE DEFEAT OF THE NEGATIVE FORCES

When this communication started, many streaks and tongues of different colored lights were flashing and darting in swarms.

This light show was flickering all around the Guardians and the Sentinels. I was unaware of what was being communicated during this time.

Once this meeting was over, everyone shuffled back to standing in a giant circle around those meeting in the middle of the room.

Once again, Tear-Eir addressed the assembly through me.

He stated that the spheres that had been buffering the cosmic energy waves and quarantining our solar system were now almost completely phased out of our reality.

He further revealed that many of the negative ET groups would have either called in reinforcements or escaped as the war escalated.

However, the blockade set up by the Galactic Federation around our solar system, as of the end of 2014, had prevented all of this.

It was explained that the only avenue of escape left to these negative forces would be via the cosmic web portal system.

Tear-Eir stated that all portal travel is being heavily monitored by the Galactic Federation to track down any negative humans or non-terrestrials who are able to escape.

The extremely small number who do manage to escape will be on the run for the rest of their lives.

PROVIDING SUPPORT AND MEETING THE NEW GUARDIANS

Tier-Eir then had me address the Witnesses.

He had me communicate that each witness is a conduit of this higher-density information. We are tasked with the duty of bringing this knowledge to the group consciousness within each of our star systems.

It was further stated that each of us had incarnated from various groups within the Galactic Federation.

Hundreds of thousands of beings from that same soul group were living back on our home planets. Each of us provided each star system with energetic and physical support.

This is done for every star system as it goes through this energetic transition.

It was then revealed that we would meet the two new Guardian groups.

Furthermore, we would be in regular communication with these groups as we moved up to the energetic transition, as we passed through it, and as we then adjusted to its aftereffects.

This relationship will help to safely guide us as we shift into an era of true self-management.

THE BLUE AVIANS RETURNING TO THEIR NATIVE DENSITY

CIA project BLUEBIRD

CIA-RDP83-01042R000800010003-1

We were told to prepare for the introduction to the New Guardians. The room then flashed with a brilliant blue light. I felt every molecule in my body begin to vibrate.

The room filled with literally thousands of blue orbs. Two new species of higher-density beings were now standing there before us.

I looked over at Tear Eir, who was now standing with Raw-Rain-Eir and Raw-Mare-Eir, the two other Blue Avians who I have met in the past.

AKA BLUEBIRD'S

He turned to the group of Witnesses, and stated that he and the other two Blue Avians would no longer manifest physically in our reality. Instead, they would be in frequent contact with us through our dreams. CIA mind control

He stated that each of us are doing important dreamwork, and training with others on our planet. - Likely CIA personnel

We should expect that this will increase dramatically. Every night we are in classrooms full of astral students.

We have been doing this dreamwork since becoming delegates, and our higher selves have been shielding us from remembering too many details. - CIA blocking recall of what they are doing.

During the Eclipse of Disclosure event last summer, I heard many reports from people talking about getting downloads in both dream and waking states. Theta, Delta & Alpha

We have just launched the new Full Disclosure Project website, and have all eighteen presentations available to the public to view for free at www.fulldisclosureproject.org.

See CIA-RDP96-00792R000600320004-3 section IV Telepathic Behavior Modification, Part B, para 2

WE HAVE TO BECOME OUR OWN SAVIORS
Tear-Eir stated that we have reached the point where we have to decide to get off of our knees and become our own saviors.

We are at the beginning of the "Great Awakening" that will lead to our very own Consciousness Renaissance.

He stated that many starseeds came here to experience this density, and to offer energetic assistance during the transition. These same beings were now fully awakening to their predetermined missions.

He also said that our ability to manifest has significantly strengthened thanks to the dramatic energetic increase our entire solar system is now undergoing.

He stated that if we begin to use our experiences and skills to further assist the rapid expansion of our consciousness, we will discover ways to manifest the most optimal reality.

Each of us can decide to take up the mission and assist in demanding the release of hidden technologies.

We can choose to do whatever is in our power to assist the growth in spirituality and consciousness that is being offered to the rest of humanity.

Tear-Eir and the other Blue Avians, along with the Golden Triangle Beings, then had me say, "In Service to All, In Service of the One."

They then turned both palms forward and bowed toward each group of the delegation. Once they bowed to the group of Witnesses, they then slowly faded out of view.

GOING BACK HOME

The New Guardians addressed us and began to give us some cosmic ground rules for going forward.

They told us to not share the information at this time. This even included any descriptions of their physical appearance. Then they disappeared.

The excitement in the room was amazing as blue orbs came and took each of the witnesses out of the room, one by one.

Aree sprinted up to me and gave me a huge hug. She then pulled my clothes out of her bag, and pointed to an area to change.

I handed her the robe and sandals, and watched as a blue sphere zig-zagged patiently around the both of us. I indicated I was ready for transport, and soon I was off in a blue blur.

AKA remote mind control

I expected to ride back with the inner earth groups, but was instead delivered home.

According to the clock, I was only gone about 10 minutes, although I felt as if I had been away from home for days.

PREPARE FOR A MEETING WITH THE SSP - Likely Scientific Services Program

As usual, after these types of encounters, I spent the next few days in deep thought. I can often go so deep in thought that I am unaware of my surroundings.

I was going over every detail in my head so thoroughly that I often felt as if I was barely tethered to the ground.

I was, however, pulled back down to ground level very quickly when I received a message that I should prepare for a meeting with the SSP (Secret Space Program) Alliance at the Lunar Operations Command.

I was certain that they wanted a full report on the previous events. I was admittedly a bit nervous about the meeting.

After all, the SSP Alliance was forced to go dark specifically because of the information that Sigmund had extracted from me. AKA PROJECT BLUEBIRD "Interrogation" Session"

I was made to feel responsible for the deaths of two respected SSP Alliance members, as well as having outed a few more.

A COMMUNITY OF RETIRED PERSONNEL

Gonzales had recently communicated to me that there was a huge community of retired Air Force and CIA personnel in the area where I had moved to in Colorado.

This was confirmed when I walked around with my son on Halloween to meet the neighbors. Likely his handlers & lab doctor interrogators that use him as a human labrat.

A number of them had worked for government agencies. The couple living directly in front of me were geologists who had retired from the CIA.

I was told that many sensors and devices have been placed around my home to monitor any types of energetic or atmospheric changes that occur when I am visited or picked up by off-world groups.

THE ORB IN THE FOOTBALL FIELD

I was instructed to drive to a local football field that belongs to the local school district, and wait to be picked up. At about 2 AM, I got in my car and drove to the specified location.

I sat in my car for about twenty minutes until I saw a white orb in the sky. It was very bright, and was descending from the sky in my direction.

The white orb then disappeared, almost like a bubble popping. In its place was the dart craft that I was familiar with from my previous trip to the LOC.

The dart drifted slowly down and landed between where I parked and the football field. It gave me a ways to walk before I could board the craft.

As I walked up, the door opened.

I looked in and only saw the two crew in the front. One of them motioned to me to get in and buckle up. I got in and buckled up the harness from my seat as we lifted off.

THE LUNAR OPERATIONS COMMAND

Before long, we were approaching the moon. It was amazing how quickly the moon went from a small point in the sky to appearing so large that we seemed to almost be at risk of hitting it.

We passed by the crater that the LOC is located in more than once. There is a technology that causes a mirage effect, hiding the LOC. It was still activated at this time.

Once the masking technology was deactivated, I could see the LOC spread out beneath me with green, red and white flashing lights on the structures.

I heard that we were cleared for landing. We flew straight for the hole in the crater near the LOC.

When we entered the lava tube cavern that the LOC is built into, I could see the rest of the bell-shaped structure that went down to the floor of the cavern.

I could see the two bays where craft were landing and taking off. They would then head off in various directions, as dictated by the lava tubes they had to travel through in this case.

We landed in one of the bays and disembarked from the dart. The flight crew walked off the platform and down a catwalk and some metal stairs going down.

SPHERE BEING ALLIANCE

It is very interesting, therefore, to see this as a clear indication that the war is being won on both fronts: both on Earth, as well as in space.

DREAM COMMUNICATIONS AND THE BLUE ORB

CG: I did my best to forget the frightening experience with Gonzales and the Mayans and get back into "work mode."

Several of our projects needed attention. Almost immediately, once again, I began to receive dream communications from Tear-Eir.

In one of these dream-state communications, I was told that I should prepare for a series of meetings with the Super Federation and the "Council at Saturn" in the next few days.

On Saturday, December 16, 2017, at a little after 3:30 AM, a blue orb appeared in my room. I got up and put on the nice clothes that I had laid out next to my bed the night before.

DW: It is very interesting that this was the same day that the officially-sanctioned Tom DeLonge UFO disclosure occurred, as I discussed on Christmas.

As I buttoned up my shirt, I mused for a moment on how much I looked like I was going in to Gaia Studios to shoot an episode of Cosmic Disclosure.

Secret Space Program Alien Psychic Wars with Corey Goode

The secret space program & alien connections with the shadow government, plus the psychic military experiments being used to interface with extraterrestrials are exposed by Corey Goode. Detailing his own experience as a child intuitive empath that was plucked out of school to join a covert military order, Goode explains how super soldiers, MKUltra, and other covert programs are operating under direction of the elite that are in contact with extraterrestrials. The truth about MILABS, REABS, alien presence on Earth, and misunderstandings about the Anunnaki are all illuminated on Buzzsaw, hosted by Sean Stone. GUEST BIO: Identified as an intuitive empath (IE) with precognitive abilities, Corey Goode was recruited through one of the MILAB programs at the young age of six. Goode trained and served in the MILAB program from 1976-1986/87. Towards the end of his time as a MILAB he was assigned to an IE support role for a rotating Earth Delegate Seat (shared by secret earth government groups) in a "human-type" ET Super Federation Council. Goode's IE abilities played an important role in communicating with non-terrestrial beings (termed "interfacing") as part of one of the Secret Space Programs (SSP). During his 20 year service he had a variety of experiences and assignments including the Intruder Intercept Interrogation Program, Assignment to the ASSR "ISRV"- Auxiliary Specialized Space Research, Interstellar Class Vessel, and much more. This all occurred in a "20 and Back" agreement from 1986/87-2007 with recall work until the present day. Goode now works in the information technology and communications industry with 20 years' experience in hardware and software virtualization, physical and IT security,

The Court finds that both parties have decided to agree to the entry of this Permanent Injunction and have decided to and agree to forgo the opportunity to conduct a hearing before the Judge on Plaintiffs' request for a temporary injunction and to forgo a jury trial on Plaintiff's request for a permanent injunction for reasons that each party is informed and is satisfied are sufficient and because the parties have agreed to resolve this dispute without the necessity, time, and expense of proceeding to trial. Therefore, this Court finds that there is good and sufficient reason, backed by facts and legal arguments known to the parties and/or their counsel, for them to request that this Court enter this Permanent Injunction, and for this Court to find that there is good and sufficient reason for this Court to sign and order this Permanent Injunction. The Court further orders that the $250 00 bond posted by Plaintiff be released from the registry of the Court and returned to Plaintiff.

Each party shall pay its own attorneys' fees and court costs.
